I. NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. This action brings claims on behalf of pharmacies (“Indirect Reseller Plaintiffs,” “independent pharmacies,” or “Plaintiffs”) that purchased generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets (“Albuterol Sulfate tablets”) for injunctive relief and to recoup overcharges that resulted from an unlawful agreement between Defendants to allocate customers, rig bids, and fix, raise and/or stabilize the prices of Albuterol Sulfate tablets.

2. Albuterol Sulfate is a commonly prescribed medication to treat wheezing and shortness of breath caused by among other things, asthma and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD). Significantly, this drug is not new: Albuterol Sulfate was first discovered in 1960s and has been on the U.S. market since the early 1980s.

3. For years, competition among sellers of generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets kept prices stable, at low levels. But starting in March 2013, Defendants, who dominate the market for Albuterol Sulfate tablets, abruptly and inexplicably raised prices. More specifically, Defendants raised their prices, in unison, by almost 4,000% between February 2013 and February 2014.

4. Albuterol Sulfate tablet prices remain at elevated levels today. The U.S. Government Accountability Office (“GAO”) recently identified Albuterol Sulfate tablets as having “experienced an extraordinary price increase.”¹

5. The price increases imposed by Defendant manufacturers of generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets cannot be explained by supply shortages or any other market feature or shock. Nor were they the result of unilateral business decisions. Instead, the significant increases in the prices of Albuterol Sulfate tablets were the result of an illegal agreement between Defendants to fix

6. Defendants' unlawful and anticompetitive conduct in the Albuterol Sulfate tablets market is part of a larger conspiracy or series of conspiracies involving numerous generic pharmaceuticals and pharmaceutical manufacturers.

7. As alleged below, Defendants implemented their conspiracy through numerous secret meetings and communications, including trade association meetings held by the Generic Pharmaceutical Association ("GPhA") (now the Association for Accessible Medicines), the National Association of Chain Drug Stores ("NACDS"), [REDACTED], [REDACTED], among others.

8. Extreme and unprecedented price increases in the generic drug industry—like those imposed by the manufacturers of Albuterol Sulfate tablets—have prompted close scrutiny of the industry by the U.S. Congress, federal and state enforcement agencies, and private litigants.

9. An ongoing criminal investigation by the Antitrust Division of the U.S. Department of Justice ("DOJ") has, to date, resulted in price-fixing guilty pleas from two senior executives at Heritage Pharmaceuticals, Inc. relating to the sale of generic drugs doxycycline hyclate and glyburide. But DOJ has made clear that its "investigation is ongoing,"² and the evidence uncovered during the course of its investigation into those drugs also "implicates . . . a significant number of the Defendants . . . [and] a significant number of the drugs at issue" in this Multidistrict Litigation.³ The DOJ has repeatedly intervened to stay discovery in this MDL on this basis.

³ Intervenor United States' Motion to Stay Discovery at 1-2 (May 1, 2017) (ECF No. 279).

10. The Attorney General for the State of Connecticut (“Connecticut AG”), whose office has been pursuing an investigation of antitrust violations in the generic drug industry, confirms that there is “compelling evidence of collusion and anticompetitive conduct across many companies that manufacture and market generic drugs in the United States . . . [and] evidence of widespread participation in illegal conspiracies across the generic drug industry.”⁴

11. The two manufacturers of generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets that control almost 100% of the market are implicated in these ongoing investigations; both of the Defendants named here, Mylan and Sun, have received a federal grand jury subpoena and/or an investigative demand from the Connecticut AG as part of the generic drug price-fixing investigations.

12. Plaintiff pharmacies have paid more than they would have in a competitive market for generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets. Plaintiffs bring this action against Defendants on account of their past and ongoing violations of Sections 1 and 3 of the Sherman Act (15 U.S.C. §§ 1, 3) and the state laws set forth below. Plaintiffs bring this action both individually and on behalf of (1) a national injunctive class of all privately held pharmacies in the United States and its territories that purchased generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets manufactured by any Defendant, from March 1, 2013 to the present (“Class Period”), and (2) a damages class of all privately-held pharmacies in certain states that purchased generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets manufactured by any Defendant, from March 1, 2013 to the present.

II. ONGOING FEDERAL AND STATE INVESTIGATIONS

13. The federal criminal investigation into generic drug price-fixing has begun to bear fruit. On December 12 and 13, 2016, DOJ filed criminal charges against former Heritage executives Jeffrey Glazer (CEO) and Jason Malek (President). The government alleged that they conspired with others “to allocate customers, rig bids, and fix and maintain prices” of Glyburide and Doxycycline Hyclate in violation of the Sherman Act (15 U.S.C. § 1).⁵

⁴ Connecticut AG, Press Release (Dec. 15, 2016) available at <http://www.ct.gov/ag/cwp/view.asp?Q=588538&A=2341>.

14. On January 9, 2017, Glazer and Malek pleaded guilty to those charges.⁶ Deputy Assistant Attorney General Brent Snyder of the Justice Department’s Antitrust Division explained: “These charges are an important step in correcting that injustice and in ensuring that generic pharmaceutical companies compete vigorously to provide these essential products at a price set by the market, not by collusion.”⁷ As they await sentencing, Glazer and Malek are cooperating with DOJ’s continuing investigation. More criminal charges and guilty pleas are expected to follow.⁸

15. Although initial public disclosures suggested that the federal and state investigations were focused on one or two drugs, it is now clear that both investigations are much, much broader. The investigations reportedly cover dozens of drugs and more than a dozen manufacturers.⁹ Press reports indicate that “[t]he Department of Justice (DoJ) believes price-fixing between makers of generic pharmaceuticals is widespread.”¹⁰

16. According to one report, prosecutors see the investigation of the generic drug industry much like DOJ’s antitrust probe of the auto parts industry, which has morphed into DOJ’s largest criminal antitrust probe ever. See In re Automotive Parts Antitrust Litig., No. 2:12-md-02311 (E.D. Mich.). As in that case, prosecutors expect “to move from one drug to another in a similar cascading fashion.”¹¹

17. DOJ and a federal grand jury empaneled in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania have focused on at least sixteen generic drug manufacturers as part of the growing investigation, including the two Defendants here, Mylan, Inc./Mylan Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (“Mylan”) and Sun Pharmaceutical Industries, Inc. (“Sun”) as well as: Actavis Holdco U.S., Inc. (“Actavis”); Aurobindo Pharma USA, Inc. (“Aurobindo”); Citron Pharma LLC (“Citron”); Dr. Reddy’s Laboratories, Inc. (“Dr. Reddy’s”); Heritage Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (“Heritage”); Impax Laboratories, Inc. (“Impax”); Lannett Company, Inc. ¹¹ Id.

18. The fact that these companies and/or their employees received subpoenas from a federal grand jury is significant. DOJ does not empanel grand juries lightly. The Antitrust Division Manual admonishes that “staff should consider carefully the likelihood that, if a grand jury investigation developed evidence confirming the alleged anticompetitive conduct, the Division would proceed with a criminal prosecution.” Accordingly, before a grand jury investigation proceeds, it requires a series of approvals, first by the relevant field chief, who then sends the request to the Antitrust Criminal Enforcement Division. “The DAAG [Deputy Assistant Attorney General] for Operations, the Criminal DAAG, and the Director of Criminal Enforcement will make a recommendation to the Assistant Attorney General[,]” who must give final approval and authorize all attorneys who will participate in the investigation.¹²

19. As Mark Rosman, former assistant chief of the National Criminal Enforcement Section of DOJ’s Antitrust Division, noted in an article on the “unusual” nature of the criminal subpoenas, “A DOJ investigation into the alleged exchange of pricing information in the pharmaceutical industry likely indicates that the agency anticipates uncovering criminal antitrust conduct in the form of price-fixing or customer allocation.”¹³

20. Another significant indication of criminal price-fixing in the generic drug industry is that DOJ has received assistance from a privately-held company that came forward as a leniency applicant: “It is understood that Heritage is cooperating with prosecutors in exchange for amnesty from criminal prosecution under DOJ’s leniency program[.]”¹⁴ As explained on DOJ’s website, an applicant for amnesty “must admit its participation in a criminal antitrust violation involving price fixing, bid rigging, capacity restriction, or allocation of markets, customers, or sales or production volumes, before it will receive a conditional leniency letter.” The applicant must also establish that “[t]he confession of wrongdoing is truly a corporate act, as opposed to isolated confessions of individual executives or officials.”¹⁵

21. In addition to the federal criminal investigation, after years of investigation and on the basis of millions of documents as well as witness testimony, the Attorneys General of at least forty-seven States have filed a complaint in this MDL alleging an overarching conspiracy among generic drug manufacturers to fix prices and allocate customers. The States have made clear that they have “uncovered wide-ranging conduct implicating numerous different drugs and competitors”¹⁶ and have stated in open court that complaints involving additional drugs and manufacturers will be filed in 2019.

22. The State AG Complaint explains that the generic drug industry is structured in a way that facilitates these types of collusive communications. “Generic drug manufacturers operate, through their respective senior leadership and marketing and sales executives, in a manner that fosters and promotes routine and direct interaction among their competitors.” This affords them opportunities to “exploit their interactions at various and frequent industry trade shows, customer conferences and other similar events, to develop relationships and sow the seeds for their illegal agreements.”¹⁷

23. The criminal informations and guilty pleas relating to Glazer and Malek, the grand jury subpoenas, and evidence divulged in the State AG Complaint are merely the tip of the iceberg. The government investigations have uncovered the existence of “a broad, well-coordinated and long-running series of schemes to fix the prices and allocate markets for a number of generic pharmaceuticals in the United States.”¹⁸

III. THE ROLE OF INDEPENDENT PHARMACIES

24. There are approximately 22,000 privately-owned independent pharmacies in the United States, as contrasted with chain drug stores such as CVS, Walgreens, and Rite Aid, and mass merchandiser or supermarket drug stores such as Wal-Mart, Target and Kroger. Over a billion prescriptions for U.S. patients are dispensed through independent pharmacies each year.

25. The overcharges resulting from Defendants’ conduct are directly traceable through the pharmaceutical distribution chain to independent pharmacies. Independent pharmacies rarely purchase generic drugs directly from the manufacturer, and instead acquire drugs almost exclusively from drug wholesalers such as McKesson Corp., Cardinal Health Inc., or AmerisourceBergen Corp. As one would expect, the wholesaler’s price includes a percentage markup over the manufacturer’s price. Independent pharmacies, lacking the sales volume heft and wholesaler relationships enjoyed by their much larger competitors, have no meaningful ability to negotiate these acquisition costs. They must pay the price the wholesaler charges. As a result, when drug manufacturers collude to allocate customers or raise the prices of generic drugs, independent pharmacies end up paying illegally inflated prices for those drugs.

IV. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

26. Plaintiffs bring Count One of this action under Section 16 of the Clayton Act (15 U.S.C. § 26) for injunctive relief and costs of suit, including reasonable attorney's fees, against Defendants for the injuries sustained by Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes described herein by reason of the violations of Sections 1 and 3 of the Sherman Act (15 U.S.C. §§ 1, 3).

27. This action is also instituted under the antitrust, consumer protection, and common laws of various states and territories for damages and equitable relief, as described in Counts Two through Four below.

28. The Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1332(d), and 1337 and by Section 16 of the Clayton Act (15 U.S.C. § 26). The Court has subject matter jurisdiction over state-law claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1367.

29. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §§ 15(a) and 22 and 28 U.S.C §§ 1391(b), (c) and (d); and 1407 and MDL Order dated April 6, 2017 (ECF No. 291), and because, during the Class Period, Defendants resided, transacted business, were found, or had agents in this District, and a substantial portion of the affected interstate trade and commerce described below has been carried out in this District. Venue is also proper in this District because the federal grand jury investigating the pricing of generic drugs is empaneled here and therefore it is likely that acts in furtherance of the alleged conspiracy took place here. According to DOJ guidelines, an "investigation should be conducted by a grand jury in a judicial district where venue lies for the offense, such as a district from or to which price-fixed sales were made or where conspiratorial communications occurred.”¹⁹

30. This Court has personal jurisdiction over each Defendant because, inter alia, each Defendant: (a) transacted business throughout the United States, including in this District; (b) sold Albuterol Sulfate tablets throughout the United States, including in this District; (c) had substantial contacts with the United States, including in this District; (d) was engaged in an illegal scheme and nationwide price-fixing conspiracy that was directed at, had the intended effect of causing injury to, and did cause injury to persons residing in, located in, or doing business throughout the United States, including in this District; and/or (e) took overt action in furtherance of the conspiracy in this District or conspired with someone who did, and by doing so could reasonably have expected to be sued in this District. In addition, nationwide personal jurisdiction was authorized by Congress pursuant to the Clayton Act and by 28 U.S.C. § 1407.

V. PARTIES

A. Plaintiffs

31. Plaintiff West Val Pharmacy (“West Val”) is a privately held independent pharmacy that has been in business since 1959 and is currently located at 5353 Balboa Boulevard in Encino, California. West Val Pharmacy indirectly purchased and continues to purchase Defendants’ generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets at supracompetitive prices during the Class Period, and was thereby injured and suffered damages as a result of Defendants’ unlawful conduct.

32. Plaintiff Halliday’s & Koivisto’s Pharmacy (“Halliday’s”) is an independent pharmacy located at 4133 University Boulevard in Jacksonville, Florida. Halliday’s has served the

¹⁹ DOJ, Antitrust Division Manual at III-83.

Jacksonville community for over 50 years. Halliday's indirectly purchased and continues to purchase Defendants' generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets at supracompetitive prices during the Class Period, and was thereby injured and suffered damages as a result of Defendants' unlawful conduct.

33. Plaintiff Russell's Mr. Discount Drugs, Inc. ("Russell's") was a privately held independent pharmacy located at 334 Depot Street, in Lexington, Mississippi from the time of its opening in February 1986 until it sold the prescription drugs portion of its business to a pharmacy chain on July 14, 2016. Russell's indirectly purchased Defendants' generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets at supracompetitive prices during the Class Period, and was thereby injured and suffered damages as a result of Defendants' unlawful conduct.

34. Plaintiff Falconer Pharmacy, Inc. ("Falconer") is a privately held independent pharmacy located in Falconer, New York. Falconer Pharmacy indirectly purchased and continues to purchase Defendants' generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets at supracompetitive prices during the Class Period, and was thereby injured and suffered damages as a result of Defendants' unlawful conduct.

B. Defendants

35. Defendant Mylan Pharmaceuticals, Inc. is a West Virginia corporation with its principal place of business in Morgantown, West Virginia. It is a subsidiary of Mylan Inc., a Pennsylvania corporation with its principal place of business in Canonsburg, Pennsylvania. The Mylan entities are collectively referred to as "Mylan." During the Class Period, Mylan sold Albuterol Sulfate tablets to customers in this District and other locations in the United States.

36. Defendant Sun is a Michigan corporation with its principal place of business in Cranbury, New Jersey. Sun is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Sun Pharmaceutical Industries Ltd., ("SPIL") an Indian corporation. Other wholly-owned U.S. subsidiaries of SPIL include: Caraco

Pharma, Inc.; Chattem Chemical. Inc.; DUSA Pharmaceuticals New York, Inc.; DUSA Pharmaceuticals, Inc.; Morley & Company, Inc.; Mutual Pharmaceutical Company, Inc.; Ranbaxy Inc.; Ranbaxy Laboratories, Inc; Ranbaxy Pharmaceuticals, Inc.; Ranbaxy USA, Inc.; URL Pharma, Inc.; URL PharmPro, LLC. SPIL also owns 69% of Taro Pharmaceutical Industries, Ltd. (“Taro”), and Taro’s U.S. subsidiary, Taro Pharmaceuticals USA, Inc. During the Class Period, Sun sold Albuterol to purchasers in this District and throughout the United States

37. Sun acquired URL Pharma, Inc. and Mutual Pharmaceutical Company, Inc., in 2012. During the Class Period, Sun sold Albuterol Sulfate tablets in this District and throughout the United States directly or through Mutual.

C. Co-conspirators

38. Various other persons, firms, corporations and entities have participated as co-conspirators with Defendants in the violations and conspiracy alleged herein, although their identities are presently unknown to the Plaintiffs. In order to engage in the violations alleged herein, these co-conspirators have performed acts and made statements in furtherance of the antitrust violations and conspiracies alleged herein. Plaintiffs may amend this Complaint to allege the names of additional co-conspirators as they are discovered.

VI. INTERSTATE AND INTRASTATE TRADE AND COMMERCE

39. During the Class Period, Defendants sold and distributed generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets in a continuous and uninterrupted flow of interstate commerce to customers throughout the United States, including in this District.

40. Defendants’ anticompetitive conduct occurred in part in trade and commerce within the states and territories set forth herein, and also had substantial intrastate effects in that, inter alia, drug wholesalers within each state and territory were foreclosed from offering less expensive generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets to Plaintiffs inside each respective state and territory. The foreclosure of these less expensive generic products directly impacted and disrupted commerce for Plaintiffs within each state and territory and forced Plaintiffs to pay supracompetitive prices.

VII. BACKGROUND OF THE GENERIC DRUG INDUSTRY

A. Generics drugs are commodity products that compete on price

41. Approximately 88% of all pharmaceutical prescriptions in the United States are filled with a generic drug.²⁰ In 2015, generic drug sales in the United States were estimated at $74.5 billion.²¹

42. According to the U.S. Food & Drug Administration (“FDA”), a generic drug is “the same as a brand name drug in dosage, safety, strength, how it is taken, quality, performance, and intended use.”²² Once the FDA approves a generic drug as “therapeutically equivalent” to a brand drug, the generic version “can be expected to have equal effect and no difference when substituted for the brand name product.”²³

43. In a competitive market, generic drugs cost substantially less than branded drugs. The U.S. Congressional Budget Office (“CBO”) estimates that, “[o]n average, the retail price of a generic drug is 75 percent lower than the retail price of a brand-name drug.”²⁴ And that may be conservative. According to a Federal Trade Commission (“FTC”) study, in a “mature generic market, generic prices are, on average, 85% lower than the pre-entry branded drug price.”²⁵ Mature generic markets—like that of Albuterol Sulfate tablets—typically have several manufacturers that compete for sales, hence keeping prices in check.

44. Generic drug price competition provides enormous savings to consumers, pharmacies, and other drug purchasers, as well as to private health insurers, health and welfare funds, and state Medicaid programs. Indeed, one study found that the use of generic medicines saved the United States healthcare system $254 billion in 2014 alone, and $1.68 trillion between 2005 and 2014.²⁶

45. The significant cost savings provided by generic drugs motivated Congress to enact the Drug Price Competition and Patent Term Restoration Act of 1984, more commonly known as the “Hatch-Waxman Act” (Pub. L. No. 98-417, 98 Stat. 1585). The Act streamlines the regulatory hurdles that generic drug manufacturers have to clear prior to marketing and selling generic drugs. Generic drug manufacturers may obtain FDA approval in an expedited fashion through the filing of an Abbreviated New Drug Application (“ANDA”) that establishes that its product is bioequivalent to the branded counterpart.

46. Since the passage of the Hatch-Waxman Act, every state has adopted substitution laws requiring or permitting pharmacies to substitute generic drug equivalents for branded drug prescriptions (unless the prescribing physician specifically orders otherwise by writing “dispense as written” or similar language on the prescription).

²⁵ FTC, Pay-For-Delay: How Drug Company Pay-offs Cost Consumers Billions (Jan. 2010), available at <http://www.ftc.gov/os/2010/01/100112payfordelayrpt.pdf>.

²⁶ GPhA Report at 1.

47. Because each generic is readily substitutable for another generic of the same brand drug, pricing is the main differentiating feature. As recognized by the FTC, “generic drugs are commodity products” and, as a consequence of that, are marketed “primarily on the basis of price.”²⁷ In a competitive market, generic manufacturers cannot significantly increase prices (or maintain high prices in the face of a competitor’s lower price) without losing a significant volume of sales.

48. It is well-established that competition among generic manufacturers drives down price. Before generic drugs enter a market, the brand drug has a monopoly and captures 100% of sales. When lower-priced generics become available, the brand drug quickly loses market share as purchasers switch to the cheaper alternatives. Over time, the price of a generic drug approaches the manufacturers’ marginal costs. As illustrated in the following chart, the price of a generic drug tends to decrease as more generic drug manufacturers enter the market:

²⁷ FTC, Authorized Generic Drugs: Short-Term Effects and Long-Term Impact (Aug. 2011), available at <http://www.ftc.gov/os/2011/08/2011genericdrugreport.pdf>.

49. When new entrants join a competitive generic market, they typically will price their product below the prevailing market price in order to gain market share. A recent government report confirmed this phenomenon in interviews with generic manufacturers:

[M]anufacturers said that if a company is bringing a generic drug into an established drug market, it typically offers a price that is lower than the current market price in order to build its customer base. Manufacturers also said that as each new manufacturer enters an established generic drug market the price of that generic will fall, with one manufacturer noting that it is typically a 20 percent price decline per entrant.²⁸

50. When there are multiple generic manufacturers in an established generic market—as with generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets—prices should remain low and stable, and should not increase absent a market disruption or, as is the case here, anticompetitive conduct.

B. Pricing of generic drugs discourages unilateral price increases

51. In simple terms, the generic pharmaceutical supply chain flows as follows: Manufacturers sell drugs to wholesalers. Wholesalers sell drugs to pharmacies. Pharmacies dispense the drugs to consumers, who pay the full retail price if they are uninsured, or a portion of the retail price (e.g., a co-pay or co-insurance) if they are insured. The insured consumers' health plans then pay the pharmacies additional amounts that are specified in agreements between them and the pharmacies. These agreements are sometimes arranged by middlemen known as Pharmacy Benefit Managers ("PBMs").

52. Because the prices paid by purchasers of generic drugs differ at each level of the market and most of the transactions occur between private parties according to terms that are not publicly disclosed, the price of a given drug is not always obvious. Marketwide pricing for a given drug, however, may be observed through the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services ("CMS")

survey of National Average Drug Acquisition Cost (“NADAC”). NADAC was “designed to create a national benchmark that is reflective of the prices paid by retail community pharmacies to acquire prescription . . . drugs.”²⁹ “NADAC is a simple average of the drug acquisition costs submitted by retail pharmacies,” in effect, “a single national average.”³⁰ Thus, NADAC is one way to track general price trends in the marketplace.

53. While NADAC provides the average price level across all manufacturers of a given drug, other price measures are manufacturer-specific. Drug manufacturers typically report benchmarks—like Wholesale Acquisition Cost (“WAC”)—for their drugs, which are then published in compendia used by participants in the pharmaceutical industry. The benchmarks are not actual transaction prices; rather, they are the manufacturer’s reported list price, which is sometimes subject to discounts. In order to track manufacturer-specific pricing, this Complaint uses QuintilesIMS’s National Sales Perspectives (“NSP”) data, which “captures 100% of the total U.S. pharmaceutical market, measuring sales at actual transaction prices rather than using an average wholesale price” and includes sales by manufacturers into various outlets.³¹

54. When third-party payers (e.g., health plans) pay pharmacies to dispense drugs to their covered patients, the amount is typically determined with reference to a benchmark or list price like a WAC. Some third-party payers and PBMs have implemented their own individual caps—Maximum Allowable Cost (“MAC”)—that set the maximum amounts they will pay pharmacies for some generic drugs, regardless of the pharmacies' acquisition costs. A pharmacy must often dispense the drug at a loss if it cannot find a wholesaler offering the drug at a price or below the MAC cap.

55. Although MAC caps do not apply directly to manufacturers, these caps impose a restraint on manufacturers' prices. The MAC cap essentially limits the pharmacies' discretion to adjust retail prices upwards, so pharmacies are incentivized to buy from the cheapest wholesaler and wholesalers to buy from cheapest manufacturer. This additional pressure on prices means a generic manufacturer that increases its price for a drug should expect to lose sales to a competitor with a lower price. Consequently, in the absence of coordinated pricing activity among generic manufacturers, an individual manufacturer should not be able to significantly increase its price (or maintain a higher price in the face of a significantly lower competitor price) without incurring the loss of a significant volume of sales. In a market with MAC caps, it is unlikely that a generic drug manufacturer would risk raising its price unless it has been agreed with competitors that they will raise their prices, too.

VIII. THE GENERIC ALBUTEROL SULFATE TABLETS CONSPIRACY

A. The generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets market

56. Albuterol Sulfate, also known as salbutamol, was first discovered in the mid-1960s. It is used to treat wheezing and shortness of breath caused by among other things, asthma and COPD. Albuterol Sulfate is so commonly prescribed that it is listed by World Health Organization as an "Essential Medicine."

57. Albuterol Sulfate tablets were first approved by the FDA in 1982 and were sold by Schering Corporation under the brand name Proventil. Branded Albuterol Sulfate tablets are not currently sold.

58. At issue here are two dosage strengths of Albuterol Sulfate tablets: 2 milligram and 4 milligram. Both are sold throughout the United States and its territories.

59. Generic forms of Albuterol Sulfate have been available in the United States since the late 1980s. Indeed, Sun's predecessor-in-interest, Mutual, received approval to market generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets in February 1989, and Mylan received approval in January 1991.

60. During the Class Period, Defendants dominated the generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets market, controlling almost 100% of the market. This demonstrates that they had market power at all relevant times with respect to Albuterol Sulfate tablets.

61. More specifically, data from IMS, a widely-accepted provider of data regarding the pharmaceutical industry, shows the extent to which Defendants dominated the market for Albuterol Sulfate tablets. For instance, during the period [REDACTED], for 2 mg Albuterol Sulfate tablets, Defendants collectively accounted for over [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

62. Defendants were able to exercise their market power to maintain supracompetitive prices for Albuterol Sulfate tablets without losing so many sales as to make the elevated price unprofitable.

B. Defendants' activities in furtherance of the Albuterol Sulfate tablets conspiracy

1. Defendants raised and maintained supracompetitive prices for Albuterol Sulfate tablets

63. For much of the time since first entering the market in the late 1980s, generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets were priced significantly lower than the branded product, and in the months and years leading up to 2013, the prices for Albuterol Sulfate tablets were relatively stable. This, however, has recently changed.

64. As illustrated below, Defendants' effective prices inexplicably increased sharply beginning in [REDACTED]:

65. These charts depict data obtained from IMS Health, specifically IMS's National Sales Perspectives™ (NSP) data. NSP data is “considered the industry standard for measuring pharmaceutical spending . . . because NSP captures 100% of the total U.S. pharmaceutical market, measuring sales at actual transaction prices rather than using an average wholesale price.”³² Transactions captured in the NSP data reflect both direct and indirect sales.³³

66. Mylan's and Sun's (through Mutual) dramatic, and near lock-step, price increases stand in stark contrast to the relative stability of the much lower prices in preceding years.

67. For over two years before the Class Period began, the average effective price per unit of Mylan's products was: [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] for its 2 mg and 4 mg tablets respectively.

³² IMS Institute for Healthcare Informatics, HSRN Data Brief: National Sales Perspectives™, at 1, https://www.imshealth.com/files/web/IMSH%20Institute/NSP_Data_Brief-.pdf.

³³ IMS Institute for Healthcare Informatics, HSRN Data Brief: National Sales Perspectives™, at 1, https://www.imshealth.com/files/web/IMSH%20Institute/NSP_Data_Brief-.pdf.

68. In February 2013, Mylan's effective prices were essentially the same. But in March 2013, it began a drastic increase of its effective prices:³⁴

Mylan Product	Price February 2013	Price March 2013	Percentage Increase
ALBUTEROL TAB 2 MG	██████	██████	██████
ALBUTEROL TAB 4 MG	██████	██████	██████

69. Mylan's effective prices continued to climb after March 2013, peaking roughly a year later, and increasing as much as ██████ (2 mg) and ██████ (4 mg) above their pre-conspiracy prices.

70. Even today, Mylan's effective prices remain unexpectedly high and would not have remained so high but for the price-fixing conspiracy. For example, by November 2016, its prices were remained far higher than in February 2013.

Mylan Product	Price Feb. 13	Price Nov. 2016	Percentage Increase
ALBUTEROL TAB 2 MG	██████	██████	██████
ALBUTEROL TAB 4 MG	██████	██████	██████

71. Sun's price increases were equally sharp. For over two years before the Class Period began, the average effective prices per unit of Sun's 2 mg and 4 mg tablets were ██████ and ██████, but in April 2013, they began to increase.

Sun Product	Price Feb. 13	Price April 2013	Percentage Increase

³⁴ Effective prices are calculated to 12 decimals; for ease of reference, prices in this Complaint are rounded to the nearest cent. However, percentage increases are calculated based on the more precise calculated price (i.e., the number defined by as many as 12 decimals).

72. Sun's effective prices continued to climb after April 2013, peaking several months later and increasing as much as [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] above their pre-conspiracy price levels. Even today, Sun's effective prices remain unexpectedly high and would not have remained so high but for the price-fixing conspiracy.

ALBUTEROL TAB 2 MG
ALBUTEROL TAB 4 MG

73. Defendants' price increases coincide with increases in average prices reported by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services:

74. There are no legitimate reasons or explanations for the unprecedented and dramatic price increases for Albuterol Sulfate tablets by Defendants. Demand for Albuterol Sulfate tablets has not materially changed between 2010 and the present nor does any change in input costs explain these price hikes.

75. Further, at the time Albuterol Sulfate tablet prices rose in early 2013, there were no known raw material shortages that would have constrained Defendants' ability to supply the market. Federal law requires drug manufacturers to report potential drug shortages to the FDA. See "Permanent Discontinuance or Interruption in Manufacturing of Certain Drug or Biological Products," 80 Fed. Reg. 38915, 38922 (July 8, 2015). Albuterol also does not appear on any archived lists of the American Society of Health-System Pharmacists ("ASHP") Current Shortage Bulletins from July 3, 2012, through today, nor does it appear on the current list of ASHP Resolved Shortage Bulletins (which includes drug shortages dating back to August 2010). No supply disruption was reported by Defendants with respect to Albuterol Sulfate tablets during the Class Period.

76. The overcharges resulting from Defendants' conduct are directly traceable through the pharmaceutical distribution chain to independent pharmacies. A manufacturer first sells the drug to direct purchaser wholesalers based on the listed WAC, minus applicable discounts. Wholesalers then sell the drug to pharmacies. The WAC serves as the benchmark for prices throughout the distribution chain.

77. Defendants' price increases for Albuterol Sulfate tablets resulted in corresponding increases to the prices paid by Plaintiffs and members of the proposed Classes. Corresponding increases in Albuterol Sulfate tablets' transactional prices demonstrate that increased WAC prices translate to increases in the prices paid by Plaintiffs.

78. The rents secured from Defendants' collusive practices padded Defendants' bottom line and generated supracompetitive revenues. As shown below, IMS data also demonstrates that the dramatic price increases for Albuterol Sulfate tablets consequently resulted in correspondingly dramatic sales revenue increases for Mylan and Sun. Combined sales for the two firms had been consistently around $250,000 per month in the months and years prior to February 2013. But, post-price increase, by October 2013, Mylan's and Sun's (through Mutual) combined sales skyrocketed fourteen-fold to approximately $3.5 million per month:

C. Government responses to Albuterol Sulfate tablets price increases

1. Response from DOJ and State Attorneys General

79. Multiple generic drug manufacturers, including Defendants Mylan and Sun, have each confirmed that they received government subpoenas concerning their pricing of generic drugs, as well as requests for their communications with their competitors about those drugs.

80. A federal grand jury investigating the matter is empaneled in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. The result of these investigations could result in the imposition of substantial fines and criminal pleas for generic manufacturers as well as jail time for company executives. Some analysts have estimated that DOJ could impose fines in excess of $1 billion.

81. Mylan disclosed in February 2016 that it had received subpoenas from both DOJ and the Connecticut AG seeking information about its generic drugs. Mylan further disclosed that certain of its employees, including a member of senior management had also received subpoenas from DOJ.

82. In addition, specifically with regard to Mylan, the investigation conducted by the State Attorneys General uncovered the fact that Mylan executives communicated, by phone and by email,³⁵ with the Heritage Pharmaceuticals executives who were later indicted for their conduct regarding their price fixing of and allocation of customers for two other drugs.

83. Indeed, the State Attorneys' General investigation revealed that, "beginning as early as 2013," these communications led to an agreement among Heritage, Mylan and another company "to allocate and divide the market" for another generic drug.³⁶ Significantly, the purpose of the agreement was to "maintain high prices."³⁷

84. Sun's parent company also disclosed that it had received a DOJ subpoena relating to its generic products and pricing as well as its communications with competitors.

2. Congressional responses to generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets price increases

85. In addition to the investigations by DOJ and the Connecticut AG, Congress has raised concerns about the alarming price spikes for numerous generic pharmaceuticals. These concerns were prompted by the very real hardship suffered by patients as a result of the unprecedented price increases.

86. In the fall of 2014, Senator Bernie Sanders and Representative Elijah Cummings requested information from manufacturers of 10 drugs that had experienced extraordinary price increases. Six of those drugs are now the subject of complaints in this MDL, including Albuterol

Sulfate tablets.³⁸

87. Senator Sanders and Representative Cummings, in their letters to Heather Bresch, Chief Executive Officer of Mylan, and Dilip Shanghvi, Managing Director of Sun, specifically noted that the prices for Albuterol Sulfate tablets had increased by approximately 4,000%. Each letter stated:

This dramatic increase in generic drug prices results in decreased access for patients. According to the National Community of Pharmacists Association (NCPA), a 2013 member survey found that pharmacists across the country “have seen huge upswings in generic drug prices that are hurting patients['] and pharmacies['] ability to operate” and “77% of pharmacists reported 26 or more instances over the past six months of a large upswing in a generic drug’s acquisition price.” These price increases have a direct impact on patients’ ability to purchase their needed medications. The NCPA survey found that “pharmacists reported patients declining their medication due to increased co-pays”³⁹

88. In November 2014, Senator Sanders conducted a hearing entitled, “Why Are Some Generic Drugs Skyrocketing in Price?” (“Senate Hearing”). Various witnesses discussed the price hikes for generic drugs, but none of the industry executives that were invited to testify appeared.⁴⁰

89. Senator Sanders and Representative Cummings followed up with a request to the Office of the Inspector General of the Department of Health & Human Services (“OIG”), asking it to investigate the effect that price increases of generic drugs have had on the Medicare and Medicaid programs. The OIG issued its report in December 2015, confirming that price increases for numerous generic drugs far outstripped inflation.⁴¹

90. In response to another Congressional request—this one from Senators Susan Collins, Claire McCaskill, Bill Nelson and Mark Warner—the United States Government Accountability Office (“GAO”) issued a report in August 2016 entitled “Generic Drugs Under Medicare: Part D Generic Drug Prices Declined Overall, but Some Had Extraordinary Price Increases.”⁴² The GAO investigation confirmed that in a competitive market, generic drug prices decline and remain stable, absent shortages or other market disruptions.⁴³ And this was the case for most generics. But it identified numerous drugs that experienced “extraordinary” increases, which it defined as an increase of more than 100%.⁴⁴

91. Among the drugs the GAO identified was Albuterol Sulfate tablets. The GAO found that Albuterol Sulfate tablets, in both the 2 mg and 4 mg strengths, had “[e]xperienced an extraordinary prices increase” in the 2013 to 2014 time frame.⁴⁵

D. The Albuterol Sulfate market is susceptible to collusion

92. Publicly available data on the generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets market in the United States demonstrate that it is susceptible to cartelization by Defendants. Factors that make a market susceptible to collusion include: (1) a high degree of industry concentration; (2) significant barriers to entry; (3) inelastic demand; (4) the lack of available substitutes for the goods involved; (5) a standardized product with a high degree of interchangeability between the products of cartel participants; and (6) inter-competitor contacts and communication.

1. Industry concentration facilitates collusion in the market for Albuterol Sulfate

93. The Albuterol Sulfate tablet market is extremely concentrated. Indeed, presently there are only two companies—Mylan and Sun—approved to market and sell generic versions of Albuterol Sulfate tablets.

94. A high degree of concentration facilitates the operation of a cartel because it makes it easier to coordinate behavior among co-conspirators. Here, Defendants control close to 100% of the generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets market.

95. The limited number of Albuterol Sulfate tablets manufacturers facilitated those Defendants' ability to coordinate pricing for Albuterol Sulfate tablets. This concentration also made it easy for them to monitor prices in the downstream market and police deviations from agreed-upon prices.

96. While the market for Albuterol Sulfate tablets is sufficiently concentrated to facilitate collusion, the years of low and stable pricing in the market establish that even with only two manufacturers in the market, that was sufficient to drive competition. Absent collusion, prices would have remained at competitive levels.

2. There are high barriers to enter the Albuterol Sulfate market

97. Supracompetitive pricing in a market normally attracts additional competitors who want to avail themselves of the high levels of profitability that are available. However, the presence of significant barriers to entry makes this more difficult and helps to facilitate the operation of a cartel.

98. There are significant capital, regulatory, and intellectual property barriers to entry in the generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets market that make such entry time-consuming and expensive.

99. Start-up costs and regulatory oversight represent substantial barriers to entry in the generic Albuterol Sulfate tablet market. Historically, the cost of filing an ANDA is about $1 million.⁴⁶ A generic manufacturer's production facilities must also meet Current Good Manufacturing Practice, which increase the costs of production.

100. In addition to the significant out-of-pocket costs required to bring a drug to market, the approval process for generic drugs takes significant time. As Kansas Senator Jerry Moran commented on September 21, 2016 during Congressional hearings on the FDA's role in the generic drug market, "there are more than 4,000 generic drug applications currently awaiting approval, and the median time it takes for the FDA to approve a generic is now 47 months or nearly four years."⁴⁷ This significant delay for new market entrants effectively precludes new competition from eroding the supracompetitive prices imposed by the conspiracy.

3. Demand for Albuterol Sulfate tablets is inelastic

101. A product exhibits completely inelastic demand if buyers will continue to buy it regardless of the price. No product is completely inelastic, but prescription medicines come close.

102. In order for a cartel to profit from raising prices above competitive levels, demand must be sufficiently inelastic such that any loss in sales will be more than offset by increases in revenue on those sales that are made. Otherwise, increased prices would result in declining sales, as customers purchased substitute products or declined to buy altogether. Inelastic demand is a market characteristic that facilitates collusion, allowing producers to raise their prices without triggering customer substitution and lost sales revenue.

⁴⁶ Testimony of Dr. Scott Gottlieb, Hearing on "Why Are Some Generic Drugs Skyrocketing in Price?" (Nov. 20, 2014), at 7.

⁴⁷ Senator Moran, Statement (Sep. 21, 2016), available at <http://www.appropriations.senate.gov/imo/media/doc/092116-Chairman-Moran-Opening-Statement.pdf>.

103. Demand for Defendants' Albuterol Sulfate tablets is inelastic largely because, while they are somewhat interchangeable with one another, they cannot be substituted for other products given their pharmacological characteristics. Doctors who prescribe Albuterol Sulfate tablets have the best therapy and not the cheapest cost in mind; patients cannot write themselves a prescription for a cheaper substitute or comfortably forgo treatment; and pharmacies have no choice but to fill the prescription as written. When Defendants increased their Albuterol Sulfate prices, independent pharmacies could not simply purchase and dispense less-expensive alternative products.

104. Thus, generic Albuterol Sulfate is an excellent candidate for cartelization because price increases will result in more revenue, rather than less, provided that most or all manufacturers participate. Purchasers of generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets are held captive to the supracompetitive prices that resulted from Defendants' conspiracy to fix prices and allocate markets and customers.

4. Standardized product with high degree of interchangeability

105. A commodity-like product is one that is standardized across suppliers and allows for a high degree of substitutability among different suppliers in the market. When products offered by different suppliers are viewed as interchangeable by purchasers, it is easier for the suppliers to agree on prices for the goods in question and to monitor those prices effectively.

106. Generic drugs of the same chemical composition are effectively commodity products because the primary mechanism through which they compete is price. When approving an ANDA, the FDA confirms that a generic drug product is bioequivalent to the branded version of the drug. This allows pharmacists to substitute that generic for the branded counterpart, as well as for any other generic that also is bioequivalent to the branded product.

107. Defendants’ generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets are bioequivalent generics of their branded counterparts, enabling pharmacists to substitute them (any of them) for branded products.

108. Moreover, because generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets are interchangeable, there is little utility in attempting to distinguish the products based on quality, branding or service. Accordingly, manufacturers generally spend little effort advertising or detailing (the practice of providing promotional materials and free samples to physicians) their generic compounds. The primary means for one generic manufacturer to differentiate its product from another’s is through price competition.⁴⁸ The need to compete on price can drive producers of commodity products to conspire—as they did here—to fix prices.

5. Inter-competitor contacts and communications

109. As discussed above, Defendants’ representatives met at conferences convened by customers and trade associations of customers (██████████ and NACDS), private industry dinners, and similar events. Moreover, Defendants are members of and/or participants of the GPhA; thus, their representatives have many opportunities to meet and conspire at industry meetings. As noted in press reports, “prosecutors are taking a close look at trade associations as part of their investigation as having been one potential avenue for facilitating the collusion between salespeople at different generic producers.”⁴⁹

⁴⁸ See, e.g., GAO Report at 23 (“If another manufacturer offers a lower price to a customer, manufacturers we interviewed indicated that they are usually asked to match it or risk losing market share to the other manufacturer.”).

⁴⁹ PaRR Report.

110. The State AG Complaint alleges that Defendants routinely coordinated their schemes through direct interaction with their competitors at industry trade shows, customer conferences, and other events. For example, Defendants Glazer and Malek admitted at their guilty plea hearings to engaging in discussions and attending meetings with competitors, during which they reached agreements to allocate customers, rig bids and fix prices of doxycycline hyclate and glyburide.

111. DOJ's and the Connecticut AG's investigations, and the grand jury subpoenas and investigative demands that have issued in conjunction with them, focus on inter-competitor communications. These types of communications are not unique or isolated, but are rampant; "[g]eneric drug manufacturers operate, through their respective senior leadership and marketing and sales executives, in a manner that fosters and promotes routine and direct interaction among their competitors."⁵⁰ The sheer number of companies implicated in the investigations highlights the prevalence in the generic drug industry of the types of contacts and communications that facilitate collusion:

- (a) Actavis: In February 2016, Actavis's predecessor, Allergan plc, disclosed that it received a DOJ subpoena "seeking information relating to the marketing and pricing of certain of the Company's generic products and communications with competitors about such products."⁵¹
- (b) Aurobindo: Aurobindo has disclosed receipt of a subpoena relating to the DOJ's generic drug investigation.⁵² The company stated that

- (c) Citron: In December 2016, Aceto Corporation (which purchased Citron’s generic drugs assets) disclosed that DOJ “executed a search warrant against the Company and also served a subpoena requesting documents and other information concerning potential antitrust violations in the sale of Glyburide, Glyburide/Metformin, and Fosinopril HCTZ products.” The Connecticut AG requested that Citron produce all documents produced to DOJ.⁵⁴
- (d) Dr. Reddy’s: In November 2016, Dr. Reddy’s disclosed that it received subpoenas from DOJ and the Connecticut AG “seeking information relating to the marketing, pricing and sale of certain . . . generic products and any communications with competitors about such products.”⁵⁵
- (e) Heritage: As a private company, Heritage is not required to make public disclosures. Nonetheless, in the wake of the criminal guilty pleas by two of its executives, Heritage confirmed that it is “fully cooperating” with DOJ⁵⁶ and press reports indicate that Heritage has applied to DOJ’s leniency program seeking amnesty for a cartel violation.⁵⁷

- (g) Lannett: In July 2014, Lannett disclosed that it received a subpoena from the Connecticut AG relating to its investigation into the price-fixing of digoxin.⁶¹ On November 3, 2014, Lannett disclosed that a Senior Vice President of Sales and Marketing was served with a grand jury subpoena “relating to a federal investigation of the generic pharmaceutical industry into possible violations of the Sherman Act.” The subpoena also requested “corporate documents of the Company relating to communications or correspondence with competitors regarding the sale of generic prescription medications, but is not specifically directed to any particular product and is not limited to any particular time period.”⁶² On August 27, 2015, Lannett further explained that DOJ sought, among other things, “communications or correspondence with competitors regarding the sale of generic prescription medications, and the marketing, sale, or pricing of certain products, generally for the period of 2005 through the dates of the subpoenas.”⁶³

IX. THE STATUTES OF LIMITATIONS DO NOT BAR PLAINTIFFS’ CLAIMS

A. The Statutes of Limitations did not begin to run because Plaintiffs did not and could not discover Defendants’ unlawful conspiracy

112. Plaintiffs had no knowledge of the combination or conspiracy alleged herein, or of facts sufficient to place them on inquiry notice of the claims set forth herein, until (at the earliest) Defendants’ disclosures of the existence of the government investigations and subpoenas. Prior to that time, no information in the public domain or available to Plaintiffs suggested that any Defendant was involved in a criminal conspiracy to fix prices for generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets.

113. No information evidencing antitrust violations was available in the public domain prior to the public announcements of the government investigations that revealed sufficient information to suggest that any of the defendants was involved in a criminal conspiracy to fix prices for generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets.

114. Plaintiffs had no direct contact or interaction with any of the Defendants in this case and had no means by which they could have discovered Defendants' conspiracy.

115. Defendants repeatedly and expressly stated throughout the Class Period, including on their public Internet websites, that they maintained antitrust/fair competition policies which prohibited the type of collusion alleged in this Complaint. For example:

- (a) Mylan's Code of Conduct and Business Ethics states: "Mylan is committed to complying with applicable antitrust and fair competition laws."⁷⁷
- (b) Sun Pharmaceutical Industries, Ltd.'s Global Code of Conduct provides: "We seek to outperform our competition fairly and honestly. We seek competitive advantages through superior performance, never through unethical or illegal business practices." It goes on to state: "Sun Pharma shall compete only in an ethical and legitimate manner and prohibits all actions that are anti-competitive or otherwise contrary to applicable competition or anti-trust laws."⁷⁸

116. It was reasonable for members of the Class to believe that Defendants were complying with their own antitrust policies.

117. For these reasons, the statutes of limitations as to Plaintiffs' claims under the federal and state common laws identified herein did not begin to run, and have been tolled with respect to the claims that Plaintiffs have alleged in this Complaint.

B. Fraudulent concealment tolled the Statutes of Limitations

118. In the alternative, application of the doctrine of fraudulent concealment tolled the statutes of limitations on the claims asserted by Plaintiffs.

⁷⁷ Mylan Code of Business Conduct and Ethics, available at <https://www.mylan.com/-/media/mylancom/files/code%20of%20business%20conduct%20and%20ethics.pdf>.

⁷⁸ Sun Pharma Global Code of Conduct, available at <http://www.sunpharma.com/Shareholder-Information/Policies/93092/Global-Code-of-Conduct>.

119. As described in more detail below, Defendants actively concealed, suppressed, and omitted to disclose material facts to Plaintiffs and members of the Classes concerning Defendants' unlawful activities to artificially inflate prices for Albuterol Sulfate tablets. The concealed, suppressed, and omitted facts would have been important to Plaintiffs and members of the Classes as they related to the cost of Albuterol Sulfate tablets they purchased. Defendants misrepresented the real cause of price increases and/or the absence of price reductions in Albuterol Sulfate tablets. Defendants' false statements and conduct concerning the prices of Albuterol Sulfate tablets were deceptive as they had the tendency or capacity to mislead Plaintiffs and members of the Classes to believe that they were purchasing Albuterol Sulfate tablets at prices established by a free and fair market.

1. Active concealment of the conspiracy

120. Defendants engaged in an illegal scheme to fix prices, allocate customers and rig bids. Criminal and civil penalties for engaging in such conduct are severe. Not surprisingly, Defendants took affirmative measures to conceal their conspiratorial conduct.

121. Through their misleading, deceptive, false and fraudulent statements, Defendants effectively concealed their conspiracy, thereby causing economic harm to Plaintiffs and the Classes. Defendants' misrepresentations regarding their price changes were intended to lull Plaintiffs and the Classes into accepting the price hikes as a normal result of competitive and economic market trends rather than as the consequence of Defendants' collusive acts. The public statements made by Defendants were designed to mislead Plaintiffs and the Classes into paying unjustifiably higher prices for Albuterol Sulfate tablets.

122. As explained in the State AG Complaint, the nature of the generic drug industry—which allows for frequent and repeated face-to-face meetings among competitors—means that

“Most of the conspiratorial communications were intentionally done in person or by cell phone, in an attempt to avoid creating a record of their illegal conduct. The generic drug industry, through the aforementioned opportunities to collude at trade shows, customer events and smaller more intimate dinners and meetings, allowed these communications to perpetuate.”⁷⁹

123. These types of false statements and others made by Defendants helped conceal the illegal conspiracy entered into by Defendants to fix, stabilize, maintain and raise the price of generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets to inflated, supracompetitive levels.

2. Plaintiffs exercised reasonable diligence

124. Defendants’ anticompetitive conspiracy, by its very nature, was self-concealing. Generic drugs are not exempt from antitrust regulation, and thus, before the disclosure of the government investigations, Plaintiffs reasonably considered the market to be competitive. Accordingly, a reasonable person under the circumstances would not have been alerted to investigate the legitimacy of Defendants’ prices before these disclosures.

125. Because of the deceptive practices and techniques of secrecy employed by Defendants and their co-conspirators to conceal their illicit conduct, Plaintiffs and the Classes could not have discovered the conspiracy at an earlier date by the exercise of reasonable diligence.

126. Therefore, the running of any statutes of limitations has been tolled for all claims alleged by Plaintiffs and the Classes as a result of Defendants’ anticompetitive and unlawful conduct. Despite the exercise of reasonable diligence, Plaintiffs and Members of the Classes were unaware of Defendants' unlawful conduct, and did not know that they were paying supracompetitive prices throughout the United States during the Class Period.

127. For these reasons, Plaintiffs' claims are timely under all of the federal, state and common laws identified herein.

X. CONTINUING VIOLATIONS

128. This Complaint alleges a continuing course of conduct (including conduct within the limitations periods), and Defendants' unlawful conduct has inflicted continuing and accumulating harm within the applicable statutes of limitations. As shown in the price charts above, Defendants continue to benefit from the effects of the conspiratorial price increases, as prices have not returned to the stable levels seen before the steep increases. Thus, Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class can recover for damages that they suffered during any applicable limitations period.

XI. DEFENDANTS' ANTITRUST VIOLATIONS

129. During the Class Period, set forth below, Defendants engaged in a continuing agreement, understanding, and conspiracy in restraint of trade to allocate customers, rig bids, and fix raise and/or stabilize prices for Albuterol Sulfate tablets sold in the United States.

130. In formulating and effectuating the contract, combination or conspiracy, Defendants identified above and their co-conspirators engaged in anticompetitive activities, the purpose and effect of which were to allocate customers, rig bids and artificially fix, raise, maintain, and/or stabilize the price of Albuterol Sulfate tablets sold in the United States. These activities included the following:

- (a) Participating, directing, authorizing, or consenting to the participation of subordinate employees in meetings, conversations, and communications with co-conspirators to discuss the sale of Albuterol Sulfate tablets in the United States;

- (b) Participating, directing, authorizing, or consenting to the participation of subordinate employees in meetings, conversations, and communications with co-conspirators to allocate customers or rig bids for Albuterol Sulfate tablets sold in the United States;
- (c) Agreeing during those meetings, conversations, and communications to allocate customers for Albuterol Sulfate tablets sold in the United States;
- (d) Agreeing during those meetings, conversations, and communications not to compete against each other for certain customers for Albuterol Sulfate tablets sold in the United States;
- (e) Submitting bids, withholding bids, and issuing price proposal in accordance with the agreements reached;
- (f) Selling Albuterol Sulfate tablets in the United States at collusive and noncompetitive prices; and
- (g) Accepting payment for Albuterol Sulfate tablets sold in the United States at collusive and noncompetitive prices.

131. Defendants and their co-conspirators engaged in the activities described above for the purpose of effectuating the unlawful agreements described in this Complaint.

132. During and throughout the period of the conspiracy alleged in this Complaint, Plaintiffs and members of the Classes purchased Albuterol Sulfate tablets at inflated and supracompetitive prices.

133. Defendants' contract, combination and conspiracy constitutes an unreasonable restraint of trade and commerce in violation of Sections 1 and 3 of the Sherman Act (15 U.S.C. §§ 1, 3) and the laws of various IRP Damages Jurisdictions enumerated below.

134. As a result of Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and the other members of the Classes have been injured in their business and property in that they have paid more for Albuterol Sulfate tablets than they would have paid in competitive markets.

135. General economic principles recognize that any overcharge at a higher level of distribution generally results in higher prices at every level below. Moreover, the institutional structure of pricing and regulation in the pharmaceutical drug industry assures that overcharges at the higher level of distribution are passed on to independent pharmacists, who cannot negotiate their acquisition costs. Wholesalers passed on the inflated prices to Plaintiffs and members of the Class. The impairment of generic competition at the direct purchaser level similarly injured Plaintiffs who were equally denied the opportunity to purchase less expensive generic versions of Albuterol Sulfate tablets.

136. The unlawful contract, combination and conspiracy has had the following effects, among others:

- (a) price competition in the market for Albuterol Sulfate tablets has been artificially restrained;
- (b) prices for Albuterol Sulfate tablets sold by Defendants have been raised, fixed, maintained, or stabilized at artificially high and non-competitive levels; and
- (c) purchasers of Albuterol Sulfate tablets sold by Defendants have been deprived of the benefit of free and open competition in the market for Albuterol Sulfate tablets.

XII. CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

137. Plaintiffs bring this action on behalf of themselves and as a class action under Rule 23(a) and (b)(2) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, seeking equitable and injunctive relief on behalf of the following class (the “Nationwide Class”):

All privately held pharmacies in the United States and its territories that purchased Defendants’ generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets from March 1, 2013 through the present.

This class excludes: (a) defendants, their officers, directors, management, employees, subsidiaries and affiliates; (b) any pharmacies owned in part by judges or justices involved in this action or any members of their immediate families; (c) all pharmacies owned or operated by publicly traded companies.

138. Plaintiffs also bring this action on behalf of themselves and as a class action under Rule 23(a) and (b)(3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure seeking damages pursuant to the common law of unjust enrichment and the state antitrust, unfair competition, and consumer protection laws of the states and territories listed below (the “IRP Damages Jurisdictions”)⁸⁰ on behalf of the following class (the “Damages Class”):

All privately held pharmacies in the IRP Damages Jurisdictions that indirectly purchased Defendants’ generic Albuterol Sulfate tablet products from March 1, 2013 through the present.⁸¹

This class excludes: (a) defendants, their officers, directors, management, employees, subsidiaries and affiliates; (b) any pharmacies owned in part by judges or justices involved in this action or any members of their immediate families; (c) all pharmacies owned or operated by publicly traded companies.

139. The Nationwide Class and the Damages Class are referred to herein as the “Classes.”

140. While Plaintiffs do not know the exact number of the members of the Classes, rosters of members of national independent pharmacy organizations indicate that there are at least 20,000 members in each class.

141. Common questions of law and fact exist as to all members of the Classes. This is particularly true given the nature of Defendants’ conspiracy, which was generally applicable to all the members of both Classes, thereby making appropriate relief with respect to the Classes as a whole. Such questions of law and fact common to the Classes include, but are not limited to:

⁸¹ Plaintiffs may seek to certify state classes rather than a single Damages Class. See ¶ 145.

- (a) Whether Defendants and their co-conspirators engaged in a combination and conspiracy among themselves to fix, raise, maintain and/or stabilize prices of generic Albuterol Sulfate tablet and/or engaged in market allocation for generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets sold in the United States;
- (b) The identity of the participants of the alleged conspiracy;
- (c) The duration of the alleged conspiracy and the acts carried out by Defendants and their co-conspirators in furtherance of the conspiracy;
- (d) Whether the alleged conspiracy violated the Sherman Act, as alleged in the First Count;
- (e) Whether the alleged conspiracy violated state antitrust and unfair competition laws, and/or state consumer protection laws, as alleged in the Second and Third Counts;
- (f) Whether Defendants unjustly enriched themselves to the detriment of the Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes, thereby entitling Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes to disgorgement of all benefits derived by Defendants, as alleged in the Fourth Count;
- (g) Whether the conduct of Defendants and their co-conspirators, as alleged in this Complaint, caused injury to the business or property of Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes;
- (h) The effect of the alleged conspiracy on the prices of generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets sold in the United States during the Class Period;
- (i) Whether the Defendants and their co-conspirators actively concealed, suppressed, and omitted to disclose material facts to Plaintiffs and members of the Classes concerning Defendants' unlawful activities to artificially inflate prices for generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets, and/or fraudulently concealed the unlawful conspiracy's existence from Plaintiffs and the other members of the Classes;
- (j) The appropriate injunctive and related equitable relief for the Nationwide Class; and

- (k) The appropriate class-wide measure of damages for the Damages Class.

142. Plaintiffs' claims are typical of the claims of the members of the Classes. Plaintiffs and all members of the Classes are similarly affected by Defendants' wrongful conduct in that they paid artificially inflated prices for generic Albuterol Sulfate tablets purchased indirectly from Defendants and/or their co-conspirators. Plaintiffs' claims arise out of the same common course of conduct giving rise to the claims of the other members of the Classes.

143. Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Classes. Plaintiffs' interests are coincident with, and not antagonistic to, those of the other members of the Classes. Plaintiffs are represented by counsel who are competent and experienced in the prosecution of antitrust and class action litigation.

144. The questions of law and fact common to the members of the Classes predominate over any questions affecting only individual members, including legal and factual issues relating to liability and damages.

145. Class action treatment is a superior method for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy, in that, among other things, such treatment will permit a large number of similarly situated persons to prosecute their common claims in a single forum simultaneously, efficiently and without the unnecessary duplication of evidence, effort and expense that numerous individual actions would engender. The benefits of proceeding through the class mechanism, including providing injured persons or entities with a method for obtaining redress for claims that might not be practicable to pursue individually, substantially outweigh any difficulties that may arise in management of this class action. Plaintiffs reserve the discretion to certify the Damages Class as separate classes for each of the IRP Damages Jurisdictions or as separate classes for certain groups of IRP Damages Jurisdictions, should the Court's subsequent decisions in this case render that approach more efficient. Whether certified together or separately, the total number and identity of the members of the Damages Class would remain consistent.

146. The prosecution of separate actions by individual members of the Classes would create a risk of inconsistent or varying adjudications, establishing incompatible standards of conduct for Defendants.

XIII. CAUSES OF ACTION

FIRST COUNT

Violation of Sections 1 and 3 of the Sherman Act (on behalf of Plaintiffs and the Nationwide Class)

147. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations set forth above as if fully set forth herein.

148. Defendants and their unnamed co-conspirators entered into and engaged in a contract, combination, or conspiracy in unreasonable restraint of trade in violation of Sections 1 and 3 of the Sherman Act (15 U.S.C. § 1, 3).

149. During the Class Period, Defendants and their co-conspirators entered into a continuing agreement, understanding and conspiracy in restraint of trade to artificially allocate customers, rig bids and raise, maintain and fix prices for generic Albuterol, thereby creating anticompetitive effects.

150. The conspiratorial acts and combinations have caused unreasonable restraints in the market for generic Albuterol.

151. As a result of Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and other similarly situated independent pharmacies in the Nationwide Class who purchased generic Albuterol have been harmed by being forced to pay inflated, supracompetitive prices for generic Albuterol.

152. In formulating and carrying out the alleged agreement, understanding and conspiracy, Defendants and their co-conspirators did those things that they combined and conspired to do, including, but not limited to, the acts, practices and course of conduct set forth herein.

153. Defendants' conspiracy had the following effects, among others:

- (a) Price competition in the market for generic Albuterol has been restrained, suppressed, and/or eliminated in the United States;
- (b) Prices for generic Albuterol provided by Defendants and their co-conspirators have been fixed, raised, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high, non-competitive levels throughout the United States; and
- (c) Plaintiffs and members of the Nationwide Class who purchased generic Albuterol indirectly from Defendants and their co-conspirators have been deprived of the benefits of free and open competition.

154. Plaintiffs and members of the Nationwide Class have been injured and will continue to be injured in their business and property by paying more for generic Albuterol purchased indirectly from Defendants and the co-conspirators than they would have paid and will pay in the absence of the conspiracy.

155. Defendants' contract, combination, or conspiracy is a per se violation of the federal antitrust laws.

156. Plaintiffs and members of the Nationwide Class are entitled to an injunction against Defendants, preventing and restraining the continuing violations alleged herein.

SECOND COUNT

Violation of State Antitrust Statutes⁸²
(on behalf of Plaintiffs and the Damages Class)

157. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations set forth above as if fully set forth herein.

158. During the Class Period, Defendants and their co-conspirators engaged in a continuing contract, combination or conspiracy with respect to the sale of generic Albuterol in unreasonable restraint of trade and commerce and in violation of the various state antitrust and other statutes set forth below.

159. The contract, combination, or conspiracy consisted of an agreement among Defendants and their co-conspirators to fix, raise, inflate, stabilize, and/or maintain the prices of generic Albuterol and to allocate customers for generic Albuterol in the United States.

160. In formulating and effectuating this conspiracy, Defendants and their co-conspirators performed acts in furtherance of the combination and conspiracy, including:

- (a) participating in meetings and conversations among themselves in the United States and elsewhere during which they agreed to price generic Albuterol at certain levels, and otherwise to fix, increase, inflate, maintain, or stabilize effective prices paid by Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class with respect to generic Albuterol provided in the United States; and

- (b) participating in meetings and trade association conversations among themselves in the United States and elsewhere to implement, adhere to, and police the unlawful agreements they reached.

161. Defendants and their co-conspirators engaged in the actions described above for the purpose of carrying out their unlawful agreement to allocate customers, rig bids, and fix prices for generic Albuterol. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class have been injured in their business and property and are threatened with further injury.

162. In addition, Defendants have profited significantly from the conspiracy. Defendants' profits derived from their anticompetitive conduct come at the expense and detriment of Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class.

163. Accordingly, Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class in each of the following jurisdictions seek damages (including statutory damages where applicable), to be trebled or otherwise increased as permitted by a particular jurisdiction's antitrust law, and costs of suit, including reasonable attorney's fees, to the extent permitted by the following state laws.

164. Defendants' anticompetitive acts described above were knowing, willful and constitute violations or flagrant violations of the following state antitrust statutes:

165. Alabama: Defendants have entered into an unlawful agreement in restraint of trade in violation of Alabama Code § 6-5-60, et seq. Defendants' combinations and conspiracy had the following effects: (1) price competition for generic Albuterol was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout Alabama; (2) generic Albuterol prices were raised, fixed, maintained and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout Alabama. During the Class Period, Defendants' illegal conduct substantially affected Alabama commerce. By reason of the foregoing, Defendants entered into an agreement in restraint of trade in violation of Alabama Code § 6-5-60, et seq. Accordingly, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all forms of relief available under Alabama Code § 6-5-60, et seq.

166. Arizona: Defendants have entered into an unlawful agreement in restraint of trade in violation of Arizona Revised Statutes, § 44-1401, et seq. Defendants' combination and conspiracy had the following effects: (1) price competition for generic Albuterol was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout Arizona; (2) generic Albuterol prices were raised, fixed, maintained and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout Arizona. During the Class Period, Defendants' illegal conduct substantially affected Arizona commerce. Defendants' violations of Arizona law were flagrant. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class have been injured in their business and property and are threatened with further injury. By reason of the foregoing, Defendants entered into an agreement in restraint of trade in violation of Ariz. Rev. Stat. § 44-1401, et seq. Accordingly, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all forms of relief available under Ariz. Rev. Stat. § 44-1401, et seq.

167. California: Defendants have entered into an unlawful agreement in restraint of trade in violation of California Business and Professions Code § 16700 et seq. During the Class Period, Defendants and their co-conspirators entered into and engaged in a continuing unlawful trust in restraint of the trade and commerce described above in violation of California Business and Professions Code § 16720. Defendants, and each of them, have acted in violation of § 16720 to fix, raise, stabilize, and maintain prices of generic Albuterol at supracompetitive levels. The aforesaid violations of § 16720 consisted, without limitation, of a continuing unlawful trust and concert of action among Defendants and their co-conspirators, the substantial terms of which were to fix, raise, maintain, and stabilize the prices of generic Albuterol. For the purpose of forming and effectuating the unlawful trust, Defendants and their co-conspirators have done those things which they combined and conspired to do, including, but not limited to, the acts, practices and course of conduct set forth above and creating a price floor, fixing, raising, and stabilizing the price of generic Albuterol. The combination and conspiracy alleged herein has had, inter alia, the following effects: (1) price competition for generic Albuterol has been restrained, suppressed, and/or eliminated in the State of California; (2) prices for generic Albuterol provided by Defendants and their co-conspirators have been fixed, raised, stabilized, and pegged at artificially high, non-competitive levels in the State of California; and (3) those who purchased generic Albuterol indirectly from Defendants and their co-conspirators have been deprived of the benefit of free and open competition. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class have been injured in their business and property in that they paid more for generic Albuterol than they otherwise would have paid in the absence of Defendants' unlawful conduct. During the Class Period, Defendants' illegal conduct substantially affected California commerce. As a result of Defendants' violation of § 16720, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek treble damages and their cost of suit, including a reasonable attorney's fee, pursuant to California Business and Professions Code § 16750(a).

208. New Jersey: Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair, unconscionable, or deceptive acts or practices in violation of the New Jersey Consumer Fraud Act, N.J. Statutes § 56:8-1, et seq. Defendants agreed to, and did in fact, act in restraint of trade or commerce in New Jersey, by affecting, fixing, controlling, and/or maintaining, at artificial and non-competitive levels, the prices at which generic Albuterol were sold, distributed, or obtained in New Jersey. Defendants deliberately failed to disclose material facts to Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class concerning Defendants' unlawful activities and artificially inflated prices for generic Albuterol. Defendants misrepresented to all purchasers during the Class Period that Defendants' generic Albuterol prices were competitive and fair. Defendants' unlawful conduct had the following effects: (1) generic Albuterol price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout New Jersey; (2) generic Albuterol prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout New Jersey. During the Class Period, Defendants' illegal conduct had a substantial effect on New Jersey commerce and consumers. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' violations of law, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class suffered an ascertainable loss of money or property as a result of Defendants' use or employment of unconscionable and deceptive commercial practices as set forth above. That loss was caused by Defendants' willful and deceptive conduct, as described herein. Defendants' deception, including their affirmative misrepresentations and omissions concerning the price of generic Albuterol, likely misled all purchasers acting reasonably under the circumstances to believe that they were purchasing generic Albuterol at prices set by a free and fair market. Defendants' misleading conduct and unconscionable activities constitute violations of N.J. Statutes § 56:8-1, et seq., and, accordingly, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all relief available under that statute.

209. New Mexico: Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair, unconscionable, or deceptive acts or practices in violation of the New Mexico Stat. § 57-12-1, et seq. Defendants agreed to, and did in fact, act in restraint of trade or commerce by affecting, fixing, controlling and/or maintaining at non-competitive and artificially inflated levels, the prices at which generic Albuterol were sold, distributed or obtained in New Mexico and took efforts to conceal their agreements from Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class. The aforementioned conduct on the part of Defendants constituted "unconscionable trade practices," in violation of N.M.S.A. Stat. § 57-12-3, in that such conduct, inter alia, resulted in a gross disparity between the value received by Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class and the prices paid by them for generic Albuterol as set forth in N.M.S.A., § 57-12-2E. Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class were not aware of Defendants' price-fixing conspiracy and were therefore unaware that they were being unfairly and illegally overcharged. Defendants had the sole power to set that price, and Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class had no power to negotiate a lower price. Moreover, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class lacked any meaningful choice in purchasing generic Albuterol because they were unaware of the unlawful overcharge, and there was no alternative source of supply through which Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class could avoid the overcharges. Defendants' conduct with regard to sales of generic Albuterol, including their illegal conspiracy to secretly fix the price of generic Albuterol at supracompetitive levels and overcharge consumers, was substantively unconscionable because it was one-sided and unfairly benefited Defendants at the expense of Plaintiffs and the public. Defendants took grossly unfair advantage of Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class. The suppression of competition that has resulted from Defendants' conspiracy has ultimately resulted in unconscionably higher prices for consumers so that there was a gross disparity between the price paid and the value received for generic Albuterol. Defendants' unlawful conduct had the following effects: (1) generic Albuterol price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout New Mexico; (2) generic Albuterol prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout New Mexico. During the Class Period, Defendants' illegal conduct substantially affected New Mexico commerce and consumers. As a direct and proximate result of the unlawful conduct of Defendants, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class have been injured and are threatened with further injury. Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair or deceptive acts or practices in violation of New Mexico Stat. § 57-12-1, et seq., and, accordingly, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all relief available under that statute.

210. New York: Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair, unconscionable, or deceptive acts or practices in violation of N.Y. Gen. Bus. Law § 349, et seq. Defendants agreed to, and did in fact, act in restraint of trade or commerce by affecting, fixing, controlling and/or maintaining, at artificial and non-competitive levels, the prices at which generic Albuterol were sold, distributed or obtained in New York and took efforts to conceal their agreements from Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class. Defendants and their co-conspirators made public statements about the prices of generic Albuterol that either omitted material information that rendered the statements that they made materially misleading or affirmatively misrepresented the real cause of price increases for generic Albuterol; and Defendants alone possessed material information that was relevant to consumers, but failed to provide the information. Because of Defendants' unlawful trade practices in the State of New York, New York Class Members who indirectly purchased generic Albuterol were misled to believe that they were paying a fair price for generic Albuterol or the price increases for generic Albuterol were for valid business reasons; and similarly situated consumers were affected by Defendants' conspiracy. Defendants knew that their unlawful trade practices with respect to pricing generic Albuterol would have an impact on New York consumers and not just Defendants' direct customers. Defendants knew that their unlawful trade practices with respect to pricing generic Albuterol would have a broad impact, causing class members who indirectly purchased generic Albuterol to be injured by paying more for generic Albuterol than they would have paid in the absence of Defendants' unlawful trade acts and practices. The conduct of Defendants described herein constitutes consumer-oriented deceptive acts or practices within the meaning of N.Y. Gen. Bus. Law § 349, which resulted in consumer injury and broad adverse impact on the public at large, and harmed the public interest of consumers in New York State in an honest marketplace in which economic activity is conducted in a competitive manner. Defendants' unlawful conduct had the following effects: (1) generic Albuterol price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout New York; (2) generic Albuterol prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout New York. During the Class Period, Defendants marketed, sold, or distributed generic Albuterol in New York, and Defendants' illegal conduct substantially affected New York commerce and consumers. During the Class Period, each of Defendants named herein, directly, or indirectly and through affiliates they dominated and controlled, manufactured, sold and/or distributed generic Albuterol in New York. Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all relief available pursuant to N.Y. Gen. Bus. Law § 349(h).

211. North Carolina: Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair, unconscionable, or deceptive acts or practices in violation of North Carolina Gen. Stat. § 75-1.1, et seq. Defendants agreed to, and did in fact, act in restraint of trade or commerce by affecting, fixing, controlling and/or maintaining, at artificial and non-competitive levels, the prices at which generic Albuterol were sold, distributed or obtained in North Carolina and took efforts to conceal their agreements from Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class. Defendants' price-fixing conspiracy could not have succeeded absent deceptive conduct by Defendants to cover up their illegal acts. Secrecy was integral to the formation, implementation and maintenance of Defendants' price-fixing conspiracy. Defendants committed inherently deceptive and self-concealing actions, of which Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class could not possibly have been aware. Defendants and their co-conspirators publicly provided pretextual and false justifications regarding their price increases. Defendants' public statements concerning the price of generic Albuterol created the illusion of competitive pricing controlled by market forces rather than supracompetitive pricing driven by Defendants' illegal conspiracy. Defendants deceptively concealed their unlawful activities by mutually agreeing not to divulge the existence of the conspiracy to outsiders. Defendants charged "unreasonably excessive" prices for Albuterol tablets, which is a good "consumed or used to preserve, protect, or sustain life, health, safety, or economic well-being of persons or their property," in the 45 days following a declaration of a state of emergency by the Governor, in violation of North Carolina Gen..Stat. § 75-38 and § 75-1.1.⁸⁵ The conduct of Defendants described herein constitutes consumer-oriented deceptive acts or practices within the meaning of North Carolina law, which resulted in consumer injury and broad adverse impact on the public at large, and harmed the public interest of North Carolina consumers in an honest marketplace in which economic activity is conducted in a competitive manner. Defendants' unlawful conduct had the following effects: (1) generic Albuterol price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout North Carolina; (2) generic Albuterol prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout North Carolina. During the Class Period, Defendants marketed, sold, or distributed generic Albuterol in North Carolina, and Defendants' illegal conduct substantially affected North Carolina commerce and consumers. During the Class Period, each of Defendants named herein, directly, or indirectly and through affiliates they dominated and controlled, manufactured, sold and/or distributed generic Albuterol

Defendants' unlawful conduct had the following effects: (1) generic Albuterol price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout North Dakota; (2) generic Albuterol prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout North Dakota. During the Class Period, Defendants' illegal conduct had a substantial effect on North Dakota commerce and consumers. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' violations of law, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class suffered an ascertainable loss of money or property as a result of Defendants' use or employment of unconscionable and deceptive commercial practices as set forth above. That loss was caused by Defendants' willful and deceptive conduct, as described herein. Defendants' deception, including their affirmative misrepresentations and omissions concerning the price of generic Albuterol, likely misled all purchasers acting reasonably under the circumstances to believe that they were purchasing generic Albuterol at prices set by a free and fair market. Century Code § 51-15-01, et seq., and, accordingly, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all relief available under that statute.

generic Albuterol were sold, distributed, or obtained in South Dakota. Defendants deliberately failed to disclose material facts to Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class concerning Defendants' unlawful activities and artificially inflated prices for generic Albuterol. Defendants misrepresented to all purchasers during the Class Period that Defendants' generic Albuterol prices were competitive and fair. Defendants' unlawful conduct had the following effects: (1) generic Albuterol price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout South Dakota; (2) generic Albuterol prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout South Dakota. Defendants' affirmative misrepresentations and omissions constitute information important to Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class as they related to the cost of generic Albuterol they purchased. Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair or deceptive acts or practices in violation of S.D. Codified Laws § 37-24-1, et seq., and, accordingly, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all relief available under that statute.

FOURTH COUNT

Unjust Enrichment⁸⁶ (on behalf of Plaintiffs and the Damages Class)

218. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations set forth above as if fully set forth herein.

219. To the extent required, this claim is pleaded in the alternative to the other claims in this Complaint. This claim is brought under the equity precedents of each of the IRP Damages Jurisdictions.

220. Defendants have unlawfully benefited from their sales of generic Albuterol because of the unlawful and inequitable acts alleged in this Complaint. Defendants unlawfully overcharged privately held pharmacies, who purchased generic Albuterol at prices that were more than they would have been but for Defendants' unlawful actions.

221. Defendants' financial benefits resulting from their unlawful and inequitable acts are traceable to overpayments by Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class.

222. Plaintiffs and the Damages Class have conferred upon Defendants an economic benefit, in the nature of profits resulting from unlawful overcharges, to the economic detriment of Plaintiffs and the Damages Class.

223. Defendants have been enriched by revenue resulting from unlawful overcharges for generic Albuterol while Plaintiffs have been impoverished by the overcharges they paid for generic Albuterol imposed through Defendants' unlawful conduct. Defendants' enrichment and Plaintiffs' impoverishment are connected.

224. There is no justification for Defendants' retention of, and enrichment from, the benefits they received, which caused impoverishment to Plaintiffs and the Damages Class, because Plaintiffs and the Damages Class paid supracompetitive prices that inured to Defendants' benefit, and it would be inequitable for Defendants to retain any revenue gained from their unlawful overcharges.

225. Plaintiffs did not interfere with Defendants' affairs in any manner that conferred these benefits upon Defendants.

226. The benefits conferred upon Defendants were not gratuitous, in that they constituted revenue created by unlawful overcharges arising from Defendants' illegal and unfair actions to inflate the prices of generic Albuterol.

227. The benefits conferred upon Defendants are measurable, in that the revenue Defendants have earned due to their unlawful overcharges of generic Albuterol are ascertainable by review of sales records.

228. It would be futile for Plaintiffs and the Damages Class to seek a remedy from any party with whom they have privity of contract. Defendants have paid no consideration to any other person for any of the unlawful benefits they received indirectly from Plaintiffs and the Damages Class with respect to Defendants' sales of generic Albuterol.

229. It would be futile for Plaintiffs and the Damages Class to seek to exhaust any remedy against the immediate intermediary in the chain of distribution from which they indirectly purchased generic Albuterol, as the intermediaries are not liable and cannot reasonably be expected to compensate Plaintiffs and the Damages Class for Defendants' unlawful conduct.

230. The economic benefit of overcharges and monopoly profits derived by Defendants through charging supracompetitive and artificially inflated prices for generic Albuterol is a direct and proximate result of Defendants' unlawful practices.

231. The financial benefits derived by Defendants rightfully belong to Plaintiffs and the Damages Class, because Plaintiffs and the Damages Class paid supracompetitive prices during the Class Period, inuring to the benefit of Defendants.

232. It would be inequitable under unjust enrichment principles under the law of the District of Columbia and the laws of all states and territories of the United States, except Ohio and Indiana, for Defendants to be permitted to retain any of the overcharges for generic Albuterol derived from Defendants' unlawful, unfair and unconscionable methods, acts, and trade practices alleged in this Complaint.

233. Defendants are aware of and appreciate the benefits bestowed upon them by Plaintiffs and the Damages Class. Defendants consciously accepted the benefits and continue to do so as of the date of this filing, as generic Albuterol prices remain inflated above pre-conspiracy levels.

234. Defendants should be compelled to disgorge in a common fund for the benefit of Plaintiffs and the Damages Class all unlawful or inequitable proceeds they received from their sales of generic Albuterol.

235. A constructive trust should be imposed upon all unlawful or inequitable sums received by Defendants traceable to indirect purchases of generic Albuterol by Plaintiffs and the Damages Class. Plaintiffs and the Damages Class have no adequate remedy at law.
